LIFE OF VALLEY QUAIL

G. A. POTTER SAYS CONTINUED
EXISTENCE OF THIS BIRD IS SURVIVAL OF FITTEST

At one time not so far past the valleys and mountains of California abounded in game. The fierce California bear, more powerful and dreaded than the Rocky mountain grizzly, was quite common in the mountains of the state. The black panther might be seen on rare occasions. The mountain lion was common. The hills and the valleys abounded with deer, wild pigeons were numerous; the egrets and the herons, wild ducks and geese of every description, the sandhill crane and a hundred others made the land picturesque and added to the scant larder of the settler.

Civilization and population forcing themselves westward into those places where all this game abounded have denuded the hills of their feathered and furred inhabitants and made new measures necessary to protect the existing game fauna of the state.

Mr. George A. Potter of the Glendale fire department, who has hunted and fished all over the state and also back east in Pennsylvania, and is somewhat of an authority on the habits and peculiarities of game birds, said to a representative of the Glendale Evening News: "I was glad to read in the Glendale Evening News the other day that the state is enacting stringent laws in favor of the quail and other game birds. That protection will undoubtedly have a beneficial effect in perpetuating those birds not entirely exterminated."

"One bird I have known ever since I settled in California and have particularly observed because of its close relationship to the birds of the same family in Pennsylvania, is the California valley quail (Ophortyx californica). In the East the quail is pretty nearly as remarkable a bird as the California valley quail. He seems to survive under all conditions. He is difficult to shoot, as he flies low and cleverly anticipates the sportsman's movements, dodging and turning and even when wounded showing remarkable presence of mind; which usually enables him to get out of reach of dog and gun."

"In egg production the California quail excels all other game birds, surpassing even the pheasant, partridge, grouse or sage hen, scarcely ever laying less than eighteen eggs at one year old and at three years frequently laying twenty-two or more eggs. Besides it usually succeeds in hatching and raising all or at least a very large percentage of its first brood and often hatches out a second brood. This is nearly always the case if the first brood is destroyed."

"Quail eat almost any seed or wild berry. They destroy hurtful weed seeds in large quantities; hence they are most useful birds to the farmer, orchardist or vineyardist. From what I have been told and what I have read, I believe the quail ranks highest as an insectivorous bird. Strange to say, some vineyardists not very far from Glendale are paying men $2 a day to watch their vineyards with guns and to shoot this valuable bird. Little wonder that their vineyards are eaten up with destructive scale and insects. The few grapes that the quail eat could easily be spared them in consideration of their services."

"It might be well for the people of Glendale to note that the quail is one of the few game birds that is attracted by civilization and makes his home near the houses in this city. He is picturesque and ornamental, as well as useful. The law protects him with the exception of during the period from October 15 to December 31. That is better protection than he has had hitherto and California should see her quail multiply."

"This quail is rarely found at a higher altitude than 3000 feet. This bird is not migratory except under adverse food conditions. They are strong moulters and this probably insures their immunity from disease. If the time should ever arrive in this state when all the game is on the verge of extermination this grand game bird will be the last to disappear."

SANTA FE TO PLAY

The Santa Fe baseball team will be promptly on the Union high school grounds Saturday at 2 p. m. A good game is expected as the Santa Fe team has been strengthened by several new players. A hat collection will be taken to defray expenses. The following players are requested to be on hand: B. Dewar, H. Bidwell, Bill Morse, Baker, Gabbage, Coole, Budway, Fishel and Bradford.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

SITE IS SELECTED FOR A NEW SCHOOL NEAR VERDUGO
ROAD AND EIGHTH

The regular meeting of the trustees of the Glendale city school district was held in the Third street school Thursday evening, J. E. Echols, president of the board, acting in the capacity of chairman; supervising principal, Richardson D. White, serving as clerk of the board. There were also present members of the board, J. W. Todd and L. E. Brockman.

Bids for doing certain work on the West Glendale school were opened and read. The bid of W. S. Carnichael was $145, the bid of C. K. Robertshaw, $121.50. On motion the contract was awarded to the lowest bidder, Mr. Robertshaw.

A representative of the Glendale Evening News was furnished the following information in regard to the purchase of school land in the southeastern part of the city of Glendale:

"The board appointed J. B. Doner, real estate agent of Glendale, to get bids on various pieces of land in the locality suitable for school sites, it being arranged that whatever remuneration he would receive would be paid by the person making the sale of the land. The following bids were submitted:

"W. W. McElroy, 3.45 acres, $7900.
"P. A. C. Moore, 3 acres, $7500.
"J. H. Flower, 2 1/2 acres, $9000.
"W. D. Root, 3.15 acres, $6500.
"J. C. Sherer, 3 to 4 acres, $2000 per acre.

"R. W. Meeker, not to exceed three acres, at $2500 per acre.

"After going over the various pieces of land offered, taking into consideration the location and also the price, the board decided to select the P. A. C. Moore land, which is situated about 250 feet west of Verdugo road, near the proposed extension of Eighth street. The price paid for the land was $7500."

Application was made by two pupils of the La Canada school to become pupils in the Glendale grammar school. Superintendent White was instructed to inquire as to the reasons why these young people wish to enter the Glendale school.

Application was made by the young men's baseball club of Glendale for the use of the Pacific avenue school grounds Saturday afternoon. The request was granted.

In the matter of the Glendale Floral club using the auditorium of the Third street school, it was thought best to make a charge of $1.50 per night for the use of the room, that being the amount required to pay for heating, light and janitor service.

The necessary steps were taken to have the alley deeded to the city of Glendale at the time the city of Glendale deeds a certain other alley to the Glendale school district.

A few minutes were spent in discussing the advisability of arranging a room in the basement of the Third street school for cafeteria purposes. The estimated cost of fitting up the room was given as about $135. The question was laid over to the next meeting for further consideration.

The following bills were ordered paid:

Chas. W. Kent & Son	$1108.75

PLANS FOR FALL WORK

PARENT-TEACHER FEDERATION
WILL DEVOTE ITS ATTENTION TO EDUCATIONAL WORK

Those who are familiar with the excellent work done by the Parent-Teacher Federation of Glendale are aware that that admirable body, by means of a hard-working committee, continued its labors throughout the summer vacation. The result of this diligence was the establishment of the three summer playgrounds that have done so much to concentrate the vacation amusements of the boys and girls of the Glendale schools.

To look at the reports recently published in the Glendale Evening News, from the superintendents of the playgrounds, is to find that where formerly boys and girls had scattered and gone about at their own free will during the two months past they have dropped naturally into the organization of the playgrounds and been under constant supervision.

Besides its attention to the physical side of school life the federation devotes a considerable amount of care to the fostering of art, music and literature in the community. It has been assisted in the past in this work by some of the greatest exponents of those departments of human effort and has the promise of still greater aid in the future.

Among those who have given their assistance along these lines are Mrs. Coral Harrison-Sloan and Miss Helen Beatrice Cooper. Miss Cooper of the Cooper School of Music, in keeping with what she has done in the past, will give a recital, assisted by the faculty of the school, early in September.

Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan of the Sloan Academy of Music and Elocution, will give a Shakespearean production by the children of her academy in the near future. The officials of the federation feel deeply grateful to both those artists for their interest in the work of the Parent-Teacher associations and for their kindly assistance at all times.

Members of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations will be pleased to learn that the federation will devote considerable attention to educational work during the coming season. A competent committee, with Mrs. Charles H. Toll at its head, will look after this work. The chairmen of the various committees are as follows:

Educational, Mrs. Charles H. Toll.
Visiting, Mrs. N. C. Kelley.
Juvenile court, Mrs. Mary K. Edwards.

Membership, Mrs. E. J. Bayley.
Patriotism, Mrs. A. S. Chase.
Emblem and magazine, Mrs. C. A. Anderson.

Courtesy, Mrs. C. D. Lusby.
Publicity, Dr. Jessie A. Russell.
Emergency, Mrs. A. C. Brown.
Kindergarten, to be appointed.
Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson will head the federation the coming year.

TENNIS MIXED DOUBLES

Quite an interesting mixed doubles tennis game was played Friday morning on the Glendale Union high school court by Ed Heacock and Carol Foss against Roy McDonald and his sister. The McDonalds won 6-4, 5-7, 6-2. This was the hardest fought match of the tournament. There was one deuce set.

GREEK LETTER MUSICALS

Mrs. Norma Rockhold Robbins of 911 Lomita avenue is at home today to the Alpha Chi Omega and Zeta Tau Alpha societies of the University of Southern California. A short musical program was presented by the following pupils of Mrs. Robbins: Mrs. L. G. Sherman, Miss Lucille Parker, Miss Margaret Atwater and Miss Blanche Fowler, in solo work; Miss Clara Pierson and Miss Robinson, in duet. A ladies' quartet, consisting of Mrs. Sherman, Miss Duncan, Miss Parker and Miss Yorba, gave some pleasing numbers. The program was carried out with style, taste and execution that would have been creditable to professionals.

After the program the party broke up into groups and wandered at leisure on the spacious lawn; others admired the peach trees, laden with luscious fruit; still others engaged in animated discussions on the croquet court, and a gay group engaged in dancing on the polished floor. Punch was served in the course of the afternoon and substantial refreshments at a later hour.

WEATHER FORECAST

Friday, Aug. 27, 12 noon—Fair, continued warm tonight and Saturday; northerly wind.

TEN CENT BASEBALL

LOWER ADMISSION PRICES MEAN
CUT IN SALARIES OF PLAY-ERS AND MAGNATES

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE
NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Organized baseball has its eye glued to the knothole. The knothole is about the size of a dime and in the Federal fence. O. B. is mightily interested in knowing how many ten-cent baseball fans there are in these United States.

Ever since Jim Gilmore kicked his entire collection of hats into the ring, O. B.'s clockers have been working diligently in the various Federal yards. Why should O. B. be so mightily interested? It hasn't been very many moons ago since Ban Johnson was tuning up his basso for the Fed's funeral dirge.

The reason is apparent—O. B. has come to the realization that something is the matter with baseball, and there are enough good business heads in O. B.'s ranks to want to find out what it is. So it's going to see if Dr. Gilmore has properly diagnosed the case. Dr. Gilmore's diagnosis being that the dear old public is tired of paying big prices to see games.

That however, raises a question in the minds of a lot of baseball men as to what the Johnson-Tener combine will do if it ultimately finds that the Feds are right. With high salaries, high running expenses, high cost of equipment and various other high departments the business end of baseball, can O. B. exhibit its wares to the fans at a dime a throw? A careful canvas of opinions outside the ranks of either of the warring factions reveals few who think it can. That is, unless something is cut—either the players' salaries or the magnates' divvy. There are a lot of baseball clubs losing money this year with the two-bits minimum.

Close to one thousand fans would have to crowd into the Detroit park every day—at 10 cents a head—to pay Tyrus Cobb's salary for that day, because Tyrus gets paid at the rate of nearly one hundred dollars per diem. And Crawford, Bobby Veach, Jean DuBuc, George Dauss, Owain Bush, and a dozen other players are getting good salaries.

On the same basis, 300,000 fans would have to pass the turnstiles at the Polo Grounds in a season to pay the yearly salary of John McGraw. Mr. McGraw is popularly supposed to be drawing $30,000 for his labors with the Giants. And Christy Mathewson, Larry Doyle, Fred Merkle and Hans Lobert are not working for their health.

The Feds have practically the same payroll, taking all the players into consideration. Cy Falkenberg is pulling $7,500 yearly. Bennie Kauff is getting about the same, Joe Tinker gets a lot more than either of them, and so do Hal Chase, Leo Magee and a score of other big men in the third league outfit.

The Feds haven't made any money this year. Jim Gilmore says they don't expect to—that the Federal League backers don't care to as they are in baseball for sport. Mr. Gilmore, undoubtedly, is trying to kid himself.

It has been suggested by O. B. adherents that the Feds' 10-cent ante is the dying gurgle of the third circuit—that it is the last frenzied sputter to get out with their skins whole. This gets a laugh from the other side of the fence.

The real reason isn't apparent to those on the outside.

LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE

Not any longer ago than June 17 a number of strong-minded people met in Philadelphia and organized a movement that has been endorsed by leaders of thought in various foreign countries. To talk of enforcing peace may seem a contradiction in terms, but really there never can be peace until some nation or combination of nations is strong enough to say, "Let war cease," and if any nation should disobey the command, to force it to submission. A benevolent combination of nations of this kind might succeed in giving the world surcease from strife long enough to educate the youth of all nations into a determination to eliminate war from the factors in human life.

It may be objected that this enforcement of peace is very like the principle on which the movers of the French revolution acted when they used to preach "fraternity," saying "Be my brother or I'll kill you." It may also be asked where is the world to get the guaranty that the league of nations will not itself violate its own agreement and being strong enough, take possession of the goods of neighboring nations, and thus bring on another devastating war and defeat the very purpose for which it was constituted.

Naturally there is such a chance. The only guarantee the world would have that the League to Enforce Peace would carry out its mission in the interests of the world at large and not of any section of it, would consist in the character of the nations composing the league. It would be expected that a nation like the United States, which has always endeavored to live up to its treaty agreements and has never considered them, as the German chancellor, Dr. von Bethman-Hollweg, once called them, "mere scraps of paper," would take the lead in a league of this nature.

In order to fit this country for that leadership it is necessary for its citizens to have a knowledge of the elements that retard or advance the general betterment of mankind. The upheavals in Europe have already affected this country's conception of future ideals and have thrust upon it a responsibility for civilization which it will be compelled some day to assume. Should civilization break down in Europe, this country would suffer just as much, perhaps not so directly, as any of the nations at present at war.

The United States, with its ideals of peace, and its desire to deal rightly between nation and nation, should be able to acquire the leadership in establishing a new form of world society which would lay the foundations of a higher world life. While doing this it would be necessary to protect this country in the free development of its national ideal.

In order to secure this Peace League on such a basis as would make it advantageous to the world, it would be necessary that each nation should have security from the other. This would involve the making of agreements and the creation of a sanction for their enforcements.

It can easily be seen that there would be no room in such a league for nations that have no regard for treaties. No nation could be permitted to break international treaties; to crush when it pleased it to crush those who might oppose its aims; to go to war when it suited its plans. If there are to be guarantees against future war, they will have to be equal, comprehensive and effectual guarantees that bind one nation as well as another. In order to enforce such an ideal it can readily be seen that war will be necessary; so that the League of Peace is likely to apply the old remedy for international ills until peace is enforced. That looks exceedingly like what is termed in logic a "vicious circle."

DEVELOPMENT OF ART IN CALIFORNIA

Art arises in the life and is developed out of the life of a people. That is why among the composite and picturesque population of California, born in the midst of unrivaled mountain, valley and coast scenery, there is developing a school of painting that bids fair to rival any of the well-established schools of the land. The art of California has a distinctively native quality. It is authentic and need not be ashamed to show its face among the nations.

No longer, at least as far as California is concerned, can the charge of imitation be made. Here is climate and scenery sufficient to inspire the dullest to interpretation of Nature that should make the California school known from one end of the earth to the other; just as the land itself is a kind of Mecca to those who dote on the picturesque and love to get in touch with the past.

Surely there is romance and beauty, too, in California's old Missions. Surely there is attraction enough, the attraction of the romantic, in the marvelous Sierras, with their mines, their rushing mountain streams, their sudden floods, their gigantic redwood forests, and all the story of the old days that still remains as a halo around the land of placer and quartz. If there be eyes to see and ears to hear, there is beauty and romance enough here to furnish out half-a-dozen schools of painting and literature.

Such painters as have developed under these conditions have been little influenced by the prevailing fashions in Europe or by the hybrid American life of New York City, with its conglomeration of nationalities. Down in San Diego, over on Point Loma, you can see a Greek temple, modern in its structure it is true, but reproducing in its architecture, and having in its climate all that was best in Greece; and just as in Greece the external world had its profound influence on the art of Pheidias and Appelles, on the music that Lydia breathed and Ionia perfected, so the exquisitely lovely climate of San Diego, the finest in Southern California, or the transcendent loveliness of the foothills of Glendale, where Nature is so bountiful and attractive, should surely evolve a school of art that should represent to the world the native beauties of the land. Such influences cannot fail to stimulate those who dwell in their midst and with the proper amount of study and comparison of different schools the artists of this southwestern land should develop a school of art whither all the nations of the world should send their gifted ones to learn and absorb its atmosphere.

Lord Selborne, president of the British board of agriculture, says the British have the submarine menace well in hand, but in spite of that nineteen British merchant ships were sunk last week.

"THE SHADOW GIRL"

"The Shadow Girl," a musical comedy, is the headline number on the Pantages list for next week. This rollicking musical diversion is from the pen and brain of Margaret Whitney, who a short time ago presented "The Wrong Bird" to Pantages audiences. Miss Whitney is one of America's musical celebrities, having given us many popular songs. The best known of her recent song productions is "Dearie Girl," said to be the best seller of recent years.

"Princess" Nana, an Oriental dancer, is a special added attraction. "Princess" Nana is not unknown to Los Angeles, having demonstrated her sinuosity and other qualifications on a local stage for some weeks with in recent memory to the complete satisfaction of both management and audiences.

Clark and McCullough, who specialize in the ridiculous, are the principal comedy feature of the show. The Victoria Four are in essentials a singing quartet, but have much enjoyable comedy interwoven with their vocalism. Mintz and Wertz will offer eccentric acrobatics, with a big surprise feature for their climactic effort.

The Musical Gordon Highlanders, established favorites here, will dispense Scottish specialties of all kinds.

SPRAY CELERY CAREFULLY

In order to get celery in proper condition to market, it is necessary for the grower at certain times to spray the plants with Bordeaux mixture to prevent the destruction of the crop by blight. This mixture contains copper sulphate and if it is used carelessly in spraying the celery plants the mixture may dry on the plants or run down between the stalks and leave copper sulphate on the stalks used for eating. This deposit of copper may be so large as to be injurious to health and the food and drugs regulations are very strict about the use of salts of copper in foods. It, therefore, behooves growers to spray their celery in such a way that the mixture will go on as a fine spray or mist rather than in streams. This excessive application of copper sulphate does not occur with efficient apparatus working under high pressure—150 pounds or more. Spraying, even with such apparatus, should be stopped, however, as soon as the leaves are thoroughly covered with the mist or fog. The leaves of celery should not be eaten under any circumstances and deposits of copper on them can be disregarded. At any rate, the housewife, before serving celery, should break up the bunches and thoroughly scrub the stalks. This will remove practically all of the copper that may be deposited by the Bordeaux mixture spray and will eliminate danger of bad effects to the consumer.

FABRICS FOR FALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The fall fashions are simply metalliferous. Mere husbands are used to the alchemy that turns their perfectly good gold and silver into frills and furbelows for the fair sex but now, lo and behold, frills and furbelows are turned into gold and silver. In the early showing of fall models there is hardly a hat, wrap or frock that doesn't flaunt a bit of galloon, a glitter of gold and silver embroidery, or a twist and fold of lustrous metallic gauze about it somewhere.

For evening gowns the metallic materials are most effective, especially the gorgeous brocades of old blue and gold, silver and old rose and many wondrous color combinations. They look like products of the looms of romance and seem to give the lie to the broad hint that pastel tints would be the only things in the color line the coming season. These magnificent metalliferous materials are naturally made up on the simplest straight lines, depending solely on their own beauty for adornment.

The princess lines that are already casting their curvilinear shadows before are perfect when carried out in these fantastic fabrics. The straight hung medieval effects are also very good. Obviously these gorgeous garments are to be worn only by the most stately and Amazonian of the sex but let not the petite and clinging vine despair. She may metallize as well by touching up a frothy frock of net with high lights of gold or silver gauze.

Embroidery in gold and silver threads and steel and copper beads is another favorite method of transmuting metals into garments and indeed a most striking one in connection with the lustrous velvets that

PERSONALS

Rt. Rev. Herman Page, D. D., bishop of the diocese of Spokane, will preach in St. Mark's church, Glendale, next Sunday, August 29, at 11 o'clock in the morning.

John Todd and family of West Broadway left Friday morning on a motor trip to San Francisco. They will spend several days visiting the fair and will enjoy the many interesting sights enroute and in the northern city.

Mrs. Henry W. Foote of San Diego is a house guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John R. Barrows, 443 West Colorado street.

Mrs. Sam H. Goldstein, 717 West Fifth street, entertained Thursday evening Dr. H. M. Kallen of the University of Wisconsin, Mr. Harry Goldman, a prominent Los Angeles attorney; Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Sachs and Miss Bessie Sachs.

Mrs. M. P. Harrison returned home Thursday from a very pleasant vacation at Carter's camp. The weather in the canyon was charming and a pleasant change. Mr. Harrison will return Saturday.

Eddie H. Wood is home on a visit from the naval training school at San Francisco. He has a vacation of ten days. He recently earned promotion and finds the school a very pleasant place.

Miss Eva Gooden of Hollywood is a house guest at the home of the Misses Mackenzie, 212 Orange street, this week.

Dr. R. L. Alsaker and his sister, Mrs. Ingells, from Osakis, Minn., and the Misses Fosket of Los Angeles, were guests of Mrs. John R. Barrows at a picnic lunch on the patio of the Barrows residence, 443 West Colorado street.

M. W. Jammars, representing the F. B. Silverwood stores of several Southern California cities, who recently had built for him at 1614 West Seventh street a beautiful five-room bungalow of hollow tile and cement construction, commenced to move in Thursday.

Chester Killgore of 1607 Vine street will commence working the first of September for the Title Guarantee and Trust company, Los Angeles, where his brother, Russell, has been a trusted employee for several years. Chester will also attend night school to perfect himself for a business career.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sanford of Sycamore canyon spent Wednesday at Long Beach visiting relatives.

Mr. Brahm van den Berg, the famous Belgian musician and composer has taken up his residence in Glendale on Chestnut street.

BURGLARS AT WORK

Chief of Police Herald and the officers of the staff are at work on information which is likely to lead to the detection of a burglar or burglars operating in Glendale. Two nights ago the M. P. Harrison residence on Kenwood street was broken into and various articles of jewelry stolen. The burglars gained entrance by taking off the hinges of the back door. Last night the residence of T. H. Rosenberger, 147 South Brand, was broken into and articles of jewelry taken. The burglars in this instance broke open the front door and got away by the back. In both cases the families were away from home. The Harrisons' vacation has been broken up by this incident.

LYONS' GUESTS DEPART

Misses Amy Lamberson and Gwendolyn Markle of Lyons, Kans., departed for San Francisco Thursday morning after a three weeks' visit with Miss Mildred Lyons of 232 South Louise street. During their stay here they made numerous sojourns to the beaches and mountains and also visited San Diego. They will stop at San Francisco enroute to their homes and visit the big exposition there. These ladies had heard much of the beauties and delights of Southern California, but were not prepared for what they found here. There will be two enthusiastic boosters for this locality in Lyons, Kans., when they reach home.

MOTTERNS VISIT SAN DIEGO

Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Mottern and children of Central avenue and their guest, Miss Lillie Dougherty of Pennsylvania returned Thursday evening from San Diego, where they motored on Monday and visited the exposition. They made the trip via the new highway and found it in excellent condition. By the first of November it is expected that the highway will be entirely complete. Like all who visit the San Diego exposition, these people are enthusiastic in their praise. They especially commend the exhibits and say there is an immense amount of information as well as recreation to be gained from a study of the displays in the various buildings.

Rev. Mottern says the attendance was very good and the reports that come of the poor attendance and the closing of the gates of the exposition originate with knockers from the North.

The statement has been made that if the Krupp factory were to quit producing guns and paraphernalia of war, it could make enough plowshares in one day to supply the demand of the United States for fifty years, and enough binders to supply grain growers in the country for the next twenty-five years.

TROPICO

The Boy Scouts desire to thank all who so kindly assisted them in making such a success of the entertainment given by them Monday and Tuesday evenings in the Star theater. The pictures met with the hearty approval of all who attended and the program as presented was very interesting. The Boy Scouts and their officials wish to especially thank Mrs. M. W. Ludden, Mrs. Arthur W. Paine, Mrs. Claire T. Van Etten, Miss York and Mrs. Adams for their splendid services rendered in making such a success of the program and to all of the patrons whose generosity made it possible for the boys to maintain a scout summer camp.

J. G. Goodsell very kindly assisted a number of Tropic Boy Scouts early Thursday morning by taking them in his touring car to Sierra Madre, from which point they left for Pine Flats, where they will go into camp for several days. Mr. Goodsell will remain with the campers two days or more and assist them in establishing their camp, which is situated on the west fork of the San Gabriel canyon and is in charge of Forest Ranger Sloane. Many scouts from Southern California have visited the camp during the summer and are delighted with the location and the facilities afforded for a delightful and restful camp. Plans have been made by which the scouts will take many tests while in camp. Among the scouts who left Thursday morning were Ralph Bellinger, Harold Benner, Russell Harrison, Leslie Keyler, Ralph Saltstrum, Harold Schian, Karl Paine, Earl Brown and Harold Kennedy.

Mrs. Wayland Brown very graciously entertained the You and I club with a porch party at her home Wednesday morning. The year's program was presented for discussion and approval by the program committee. It was announced that the members of the club and their husbands will be entertained with a musical Thursday evening, September 2, by Miss Melicent Virden, the accomplished musician, at her home on Mira Loma. This program has been long anticipated by the You and I club and their husbands.

There will be no admission charged

A WORD TO ADVERTISERS

The management of the Glendale Evening News and the Tri-City Progress has spent more than two years in building up a large list of subscribers and now the time has come when we can ask advertisers to use the columns of both of these papers freely in advertising their merchandise and know that their offerings will be read by thousands of people of the Glendale community.

These two papers cover the territory comprising Glendale, Tropic, Casa Verdugo, Burbank, La Canada, Montrose, La Crescenta, Littlelands, Monte Vista and Roscoe. No paper published in the San Fernando Valley has nearly so large a circulation as these papers. So proud are we of the large list of subscribers, that we are ready to allow advertisers to inspect the actual-mail list. No need of boasting of a large list unless we can prove it, and we can prove it.

The Evening News and the Tri-City Progress are not laying a foundation for today and tomorrow only, but are being built on a substantial foundation for the future. News space is considered as valuable as advertising space and advertising will not be carried if news matter is to be omitted.

Judicious advertising brings business to every live merchant. Whenever a merchant cannot get results from publicity there is something wrong with his stock of merchandise or with his manner of doing business.

People will read and respond to good, live and honest offers made through a local newspaper. The offer must be an honest one.

CLOSING DAYS OF CONTEST

The Glendale Evening News and Tri-City Progress subscription building contest which opened June 14 is now drawing to a close. There are only seven more days until September 4 when the judges will count the votes and the prizes will be awarded.

Now is the time for the friends of the contestants to get busy, and render diligent assistance. Friends should not only make suggestions to the candidates but these friends should also see to it that these suggestions are carried out.

You may wish help some time and these contest candidates will stand ready to help you if you have willingly helped them.

It is now too late to look backward. If you encouraged a friend to enter the contest the only fair way to do is to give that friend liberal support. Nobody has any use for a quitter and the position occupied by the various candidates and the prizes offered do not offer an excuse for quitting.

As previously stated in these columns, every candidate should have at least a dozen helpers, not those who do all helping in talking, but helpers who turn in actual business. Bear in mind that no bonus will be offered after tomorrow, so all possible business should be turned in before 6 p. m. tomorrow.

The position occupied by the contestants at 1:30 o'clock today is as follows:

- 1—Morse Freeman.
- 2—Miss Cora Hickman.
- 3—Mrs. J. C. May.
- 4—Miss Ruth Wright.
- 5—Newton McGillis.
- 6—Mrs. Albert Pearce.
- 7—Miss Virginia Graham.

PARKER'S PARAGRAPHS: PLAIN PERSONAL—PRACTICAL

Among the candidates posing for the nomination of the G. O. P. for the presidency is one whose chivalrous soul breaks forth thusly: "I will never surrender the god-given right to defend my own wife and do the necessary political work to secure her rights for her"—or words to that purpose. In this way he emphasizes his opposition to woman's suffrage. Watch his shape after the convention "steam roller" passes over him.

When I see a young man rush to the news-stand, snatch the latest issue, grab the colored "dope" sheet, throw the rest away, dash into a restaurant, take a seat and go to reading who and what won, from a prizefight to a baseball game, while the girl stands patiently waiting for his order, I can forecast his future business success and guarantee its correctness.

Mrs. E. A. Hodgkins, instructor and advisor of employees in Denver's department stores, takes it upon herself to say that if she were the owner of a large store she would employ only men, and gives as a reason that women depend on "intuition," lacking both "judgment and reasoning powers." Mrs. Hodgkins may have been taking a true picture of herself in this, but assuredly it does not fit the great mass of intelligent, capable women pressing into official and business life on merit.

The looting of a bank in the city by three professionals the other day in broad daylight and just across the street from a police station, suggests unusual skill and expert qualifications on the part of the robbers, but the same can scarcely be said of the police. We invited these cracksmen here when we voted "wide open" for the sake of the fair, but unfortunately we have not an adequate police force to take care of them.

Ex-President Taft, now on the coast, denied an interview to women suffragists who desired to speak with him after they had waited an hour to do so. His excuse was that he positively had not time to do so at this time. This may have been the fact from a Taft standpoint, but it is safe to say that not a woman on the committee believed it. He may never run again for president, nor will he be as big a man in any way as if he had "smiled" on the sisterhood.

Penny postage is the next reform measure the people should demand. Stop the franking privilege so grossly abused by well-paid and over-paid U. S. senators, congressmen and other privileged officials. Compel every one to pay the penny for every letter mailed, and cut off all dead-head matter, and the postoffice department would be able to make money all the time and greatly increase its efficiency. King George pays his penny the same as his poorest subject. When a congressman franks his boots home for mending you are paying for it when he should.

The devastation created by summer floods in Arkansas, Texas and Missouri and the sweeping away of dams here and there should not fail to impress national, state and local committees with the importance of the question of control of flood waters, which vitally affects so much territory and so many people.
